

Nicole Boyington

Candidate for
WOTA's President-Elect Opening

Vote will take place on Oct. 11, 2019

Nicole Boyington has been an Occupational Therapist for 18 years. She currently works as an academic fieldwork coordinator/assistant professor for Mount Mary University in Milwaukee, WI. She became a co-owner of Occupational Therapy Family Services, LLC in 2019. She also is PRN at the Rehabilitation Hospital of WI. Nicole has certifications in lymphedema, home modification, and ADHD.

As a previous staff occupational therapist and manager, Nicole has always strived to help others succeed. Nicole helps co-workers and students grow as occupational therapists. She feels that to be an effective leader, you need to build up those around you. It is important to Nicole to be involved in self-directed learning and to help others excel in areas that interest them. Nicole has worked in many settings in occupational therapy. Some settings include inpatient rehabilitation, home health care, outpatient ortho and neuro, acute care, skilled nursing, pediatrics, and psychosocial settings.

Nicole graduated in 2001 from St. Ambrose University in Davenport, IA with her Master of occupational therapy. In 2011, she graduated from Chatham University in Pittsburg, PA, with her post-professional occupational therapy doctorate.

Nicole currently volunteers her time with WOTA, AOTA, Waukesha County special needs committee, and as a parent to parent educator on ADHD. Nicole is an advocate for special needs families and the community. She currently lives in Menomonee Falls, WI with her husband and three children and grew up in the Milwaukee area. Nicole's hobbies include spending time with her family, reading (fiction and research), learning new things (in OT and outside of OT), and practicing mindfulness.
